Japanese Communique Says U. S. Armada Has Landed Forces on Island of Suluan

ANTWERP AND WARSAW KEYS TO VICTORY

Success in Europe This Fall Depends Upon Speed With Which Allies Can Gain Vital Cities

SUPPLY LINES INVOLVED

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—The possibility of victory in Europe this year will very likely be decided by the speed with which Allied armies can turn to their own use the two great strategic keys to Hitler's fortress Germany—the Dutch port city of Antwerp and Poland's devastated capital, Warsaw.

Full use of the unloading facilities of Antwerp could solve much of the western front supply problem and support a crushing thrust into the Reich over the shortest, best route to Berlin.

Antwerp is in Allied hands, but enemy guns still dominate its approaches, barring the way to shipping. Clearing those approaches is conceded by military men here to be one of the top-priority jobs on the western front.

Unless they are cleared very promptly, it appears highly improbable that the Allies can muster full strength against all the enemy's vulnerable points for multiple heavy blows this fall.

This would sharply limit what appears to be the grand strategy for a 1944 victory in Europe—final twin offensives by the Russians in the east and the Anglo-American-Ally forces in the west before winter closes in.

The Russian summer campaign paralleled the Anglo-American invasion of Normandy and contributed much to its success. The campaign reached its most advanced point in the suburbs of Warsaw at the end of July. The Germans had determined to hold the city and counter-attacks drove the Russians out.

It is expected that after adequate preparations for a grand scale assault, the Allied armies on the eastern front will join with those on the west in a major, unlimited (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Kane War Plant Destroyed By Fire

Kane, Oct. 19.—(P)—Fire of undetermined origin today destroyed the Kane Manufacturing Co. plant, with a loss estimated by the owner at between $50,000 and $100,000.

The Moser Company, a subsidiary of the Melvin L. Smith laboratories, employed 30 men and was engaged in war production.

Four buildings with plant machinery, equipment and patterns were destroyed. Firemen from Mt. Jewett were called to assist Kane firemen. Embers from the fire showered residences a half mile away, keeping scores of fire watchers busy.

Sheffield Soldier Home After Exciting Army Experiences

Reading like a page from a tale of international intrigue and with a fair share of mystery in the plot is the account of the recent experiences of S/Sgt. John T. Farr, 24, who walked in unannounced on Tuesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Farr, Sheffield.

Reported missing in action after a bombing raid over Germany on March 2 of this year, young Farr, aerial gunner-engineer on a Flying Fort, managed to get to Berne, Switzerland, after 74 days, and was interned by the Swiss government. That was the last word his family had of him until his safe arrival home.

Information concerning his escape from that neutral country and the manner in which he finally made his way to a bomber base in England are military secrets. The young sergeant and his family have been requested to withhold such information because of other factors concerned.

Sgt. Farr was inducted in the

Unconfirmed Nipponese Announcement Indicates That Powerful Task Group Has Boldly Steamed Amphibious Units Into Leyte Gulf

AREA ESTIMATED TO BE 400 MILES FROM MANILA

BULLETIN
San Francisco, Oct. 19.—(P)—A Tokyo radio broadcast, picked up by the Blue Network here shortly after 1 p. m. EDT today, quoted a Japanese Imperial communique as reporting American attempts to land on Leyte island, central Philippines. The broadcast said "Leyte, where the enemy has started landing attempts, is between Mindanao and Luzon islands."

By the Associated Press
American expeditionary forces are invading the Philippines, Tokyo radio reported today, striking at the very center of the vulnerable eastern flank of the archipelago.

Domei News Agency said flatly that United States forces have begun their "re-invasion of the Philippines," supported by powerful units of the Pacific fleet and China-based aircraft.

Sea forces, Domei said, included "the naval fleet under the command of General Douglas MacArthur."

An official Japanese communique said "the enemy fleet" accompanied transports into spacious Leyte Gulf Tuesday (Manila time) and for the last two days naval guns and carrier aircraft have been bombarding shore defenses.

"Part of the enemy forces seem to have landed on Suluan island" at the entrance of the gulf, Domei said.

Domei asserted Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's powerful task force 58—the carrier arm of the Pacific fleet—was not participating in the invasion because of asserted losses suffered off Formosa. These have been denied by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Since the Formosa battle, Domei broadcast, "the enemy has organized a new large task force, grouping together the Fifth fleet under Vice Adm. Raymond Spruance, which did not participate in the air battle off Taiwan (Formosa)," and the naval fleet under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as well as other naval forces in the Pacific, excluding the 58th task force."

These broadcasts, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, were the only reports that Gen. MacArthur had taken the most crucial step to fulfill his pledge, made two and a half years ago, to return to the Philippines.

While there was no confirmation that the Philippines invasion was at least under way, the combined Pacific sea forces of Adm. Nimitz and land-based air strength of General MacArthur have been paving the way for reconquest of the territory in ten days of unprecendented raids on western Pacific islands for a thousand miles either side of the Philippines.

These thunderous attacks which (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Truman Campaigns In the Northwest

With Truman En Route to Seattle, Wash., Oct. 19.—(P)—Leaving his private car at Portland, Ore., Senator Harry S. Truman toured Washington by automobile today with Senator Wallgren (D-Wash.), in an effort to put new emphasis on the Democratic campaign in the northwest.

He expected to climax his west coast campaign with a major political address in the Seattle civic auditorium in which he said he would stress the "importance of President Roosevelt's re-election" to the development of water power and the production of light metals in this area.

The Truman party wound up a day's campaign in Oregon last night at a Democratic party rally in Portland where Democratic senatorial candidates Willis Mahoney and Edgar W. Smith saw prospects for the party's entire ticket in the state.

State Chairman Henry Aiken said the margin for Roosevelt and Truman would run "anywhere from 15,000 to 50,000."

State Dep't May Reply To Forum Talk

Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—The White House indicated today the state department will comment on Governor Thomas E. Dewey's criticism last night of the Roosevelt administration's conduct of foreign relations.

Stephen Early, press secretary, was asked whether any statement would be forthcoming on the speech before the New York Herald Tribune forum in which Dewey assailed what he termed President Roosevelt's "personal secret diplomacy."

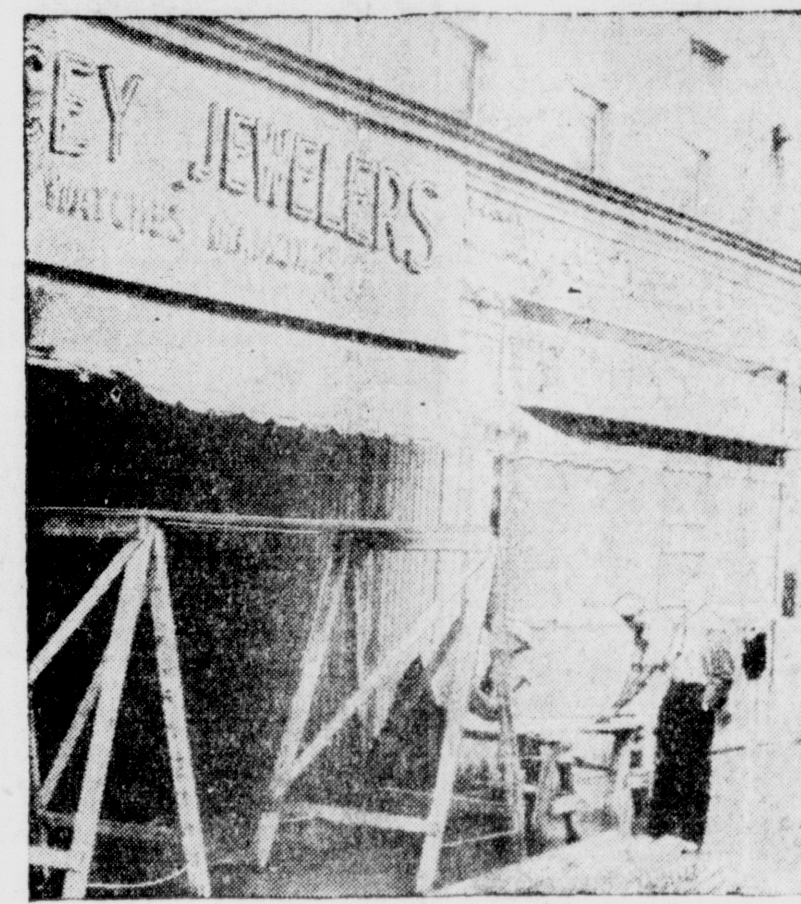

Early said: "Since the remarks last night have to do with foreign policy I think the state department might have something to say. I would look over there today."

The chief executive continued work today on his foreign policy speech which he will make after a day of touring four of the five New York City boroughs, including all the Ebbets Field in Brooklyn to attend a rally for Senator Wagner (D-NY) who is up for re-election.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who will deliver a major address tomorrow night in Hunt armory, will arrive in the city at noon tomorrow. Republican campaign headquarters announced today,

Miami Merchants "Batten Down"

Flagler street merchants re-enact a familiar routine in Miami, Fla., shoring up store fronts as hurricane protection.

Miami, Fla., Oct. 19.—(P)—The center of a "severe hurricane" now passing over the Tampa-St. Petersburg area will reach the vicinity of Jacksonville this afternoon. Seven persons were known dead, more than 300 injured and property damage was heavy in western Cuba after the storm battered the Havana area for more than five hours. Government officials said it would be days before the full toll would be known. In Florida, residents of the thickly populated beaches at Bradenton and Sarasota moved inland and more than two score families sought refuge in schools and churches.

Winning War and Keeping the Peace Main Campaign Issues

By the Associated Press
Campaigning in America's first wartime election in 80 years struck hard today on winning and keeping the peace, with Republicans and Democrats sharply at odds on which man could best run the job.

Doubt that Dewey, if elected, could "buck the known and recognized powerful isolationist forces in the Republican party" was expressed in Raleigh, N. C., by Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy under Woodrow Wilson.

On the Herald-Tribune forum with Governor Dewey last night were Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.) and Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democratic candidate in California for a seat in the U. S. house of representatives.

Mrs. Luce spoke of the need of working constantly to maintain peace and said Dewey "has clearly grasped this courageous concept of waging peace."

Mrs. Douglas stressed the need of international cooperation in "this rapidly shrinking world" and continued: "Franklin Roosevelt has long understood this philosophy. He fought for it with all the strength of his magnificent heart."

In Chicago, Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said in a radio speech that "Mr. Churchill has now found that, instead of being a good horse trader, Mr. Roosevelt is a push-over, and Mr. Stalin has found that out, too. That's why Mr. Stalin is for a fourth term for Roosevelt."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) journeyed to Kennett, Mo., where he (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Five Deaths In Erie Baffling To Officials

Erie, Oct. 19.—(P)—Investigation into the baffling deaths of a mother and four young sons today awaited reports from laboratories in Harrisburg and Philadelphia, where analytical tests were to be made.

District Attorney Burton Laub said the brain of one victim and the stomach contents of all had been sent away in an effort to determine whether food poisoning caused the fatalities. He explained that examination of the brain to ascertain whether nerve center might have been affected by such a disease as poliomyelitis, or meningitis, was routine.

Dr. James R. Smith, city health director, called the quintuple deaths "the most mysterious case in the history of the health department." (Turn to Page Thirteen)

We'll Be Seing You!

Tonight's the night!
WHAT night?
Don't you remember? The night of the first report meeting of the Warren County United War Fund.

If you're a worker in the campaign—regardless of your capacity—you are urged to be there. And to be there promptly, the meeting may begin at 7:30 sharp. A 99 44/100 per cent attendance is desired by E. W. Johnson, chairman, and all regional chairmen and captains everywhere in the county.

Breths will be held and eyes glued to the blackboard as the reports come in. Leaders of the drive have asked that "we carry the ball to the 50-yard line by the first report meeting"—in other words, that we "get in" half of our total quota of $88,700.

Can we do it? Can we get $45,000 in by tonight? Well, last year at the first report meeting we had only about one-third. Yesterday's paper reported that neighboring Bradford, in its first report, showed only 20% of the goal.

Yes, but this year is not last year. And Warren is not Bradford. Hopes are STILL held for that 50% if every worker is on hand tonight, and if every worker has a report to turn in.

We'll be seing you! And we'll both be looking at the blackboard.

Arrangements were completed today for the appearance at tonight's meeting of three soldier guards from the Bull Hill war prisoner camp, through the courtesy of the camp commander, Captain Hann. The men who will appear on the program are T/Sgt. McLaughlin, S/Sgt. Lynch and S/Sgt. Montague.

ALLIES COIL FOR BIG PUSH TO THE RHINE

British Staff Officer Says Plans for Large-Scale Jump-off Toward Reich Are Nearing End

CLEAR OUT ANTWERP

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press War Editor

Allied armies in the west coiled today for a mighty strike which a British staff officer said might force a great battle for the final decision within ten weeks, and in the east the Germans admitted evacuation of an East Prussian border town, before the weight of a strong Russian tank and infantry assault.

A German radio commentator said the East Prussian town of Eydtkuhnen, just across the Lithuanian border from the jump-off of the reported Red army offensive, was evacuated, but added the Russians still had not pierced Nazi border defenses.

Heavy rain pelted the entire length of the western front from Holland to the Swiss border, slowing Allied offensive operations, but on all sides there were indications of the buildup for the decisive battle. A British staff officer said preparations for a sustained, large-scale jump-off toward the Rhine were nearing an end, and that launching of the assault would depend upon establishment of a shorter supply route and upon favorable weather.

The great Belgian port of Antwerp is the logical supply port for the western front and the battle to clear it for Allied use neared a climax. Canadians have squeezed the Nazis from all but the last pocket on the south bank of the Scheldt river estuary, about 12 miles wide and up to 15 miles deep.

The British Second Army in Holland, taking swift advantage of the capture of important Venray, advanced three and one-half miles (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Army Paper Replies To Movie Stars

New Delhi, Oct. 19.—(P)—The army newspaper CBI Roundup answered today criticism by film stars Ann Sheridan, Joe E. Brown and Paulette Goddard of a recent editorial asserting that they cut short their entertainment tours in "overseas theaters."

Commenting on Miss Sheridan's statement that she ate C or K rations more often than not, the newspaper said, "the facts of the matter were that Miss Sheridan ate the best food available everywhere."

Observing that Joe E. Brown had suggested that the editorial probably was written by someone enjoying the comforts of New Delhi, CBI Roundup said:

"It was that happens to be where the army ordered us to serve. The writer of the editorial was thoroughly familiar with the energy, skill and generosity of Brown."

"Old cavern mouth probably was (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Plan To Celebrate Thanksgiving On 23rd

Harrisburg, Oct. 19.—(P)—Governor Martin's office reiterated today that Thanksgiving Day will be observed in Pennsylvania on Thursday, November 23, and that a proclamation formally fixing the day would be issued shortly.

Casualties In France Now Total 174,780

Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—United States army casualties on the western land front, from the invasion on June 6 through October 3, numbered 174,780.

Air force casualties are not included in this figure announced today by the war department. Of the total, 29,842 were killed, 130,227 wounded and 14,711 missing.

The casualties include those of the Seventh Army which landed in southern France as well as those fighting in France, the lowlands and the German border region.

Since the start of the war, the combined army and navy casualty total is 453,375, compared with 417,085 two weeks ago.

Army casualties for all theatres through October 6 were 384,895, an increase of 33,602 since the last announcement of casualty figure October 5.

Of the 384,895 casualties, 75,562 are dead, including those who died of wounds as well as battle field deaths; 208,592 are wounded (excluding those who died of wounds); 48,404 are missing and 52,331 are captured and interned.

The total of 351,298 casualties announced two weeks ago was divided as follows: 68,588 killed; 185,921 wounded; 45,488 missing and 51,316 prisoners.

The latest navy casualty figure is 68,480, an increase of 2,688 in two weeks.

The comparative navy figures for today and October 5, respectively, are: killed 27,047 and 25,963; wounded 27,348 and 25,588; missing 9,566 and 9,761; prisoners 4,450, unchanged.

Bricker Campaign Staff Is Elated

En Route With Bricker, Oct. 19.—(P)—Gov. John W. Bricker wound up his six-day campaign for California's 25 electoral votes today after an unprecedented demonstration by supporters at Los Angeles.

Bricker's campaign staff appeared to be in high spirits as a result of his reception last night in Los Angeles. Shrine auditorium, where Senator Harry S. Truman, the Democratic candidate for vice president, spoke two days before.

What impressed the Bricker managers were the cries of "more!" which arose when he completed a 25-minute radio broadcast and which caused him to return to the rostrum to speak an additional six minutes.

Bricker, taking the cue from Truman's Los Angeles address, said the Democratic candidate had given the Roosevelt administration credit for "the miracle of war production—indeed, for winning the war itself."

"That," the Republican declared, "is an insult to American industry and labor, and the countless American men and women who are fighting and dying around the world tonight."

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, Oct. 19.—(P)—The Allied treatment of German people's army which Adolf Hitler is raising to combat invasion will vary according to the circumstances under the rules of war which the United Nations are following.

Under these rules inhabitants who take up arms at the approach of Allied forces to resist are accorded the rights of belligerents, provided they carry their arms openly and even though they are not organized.

But if the people of a region already occupied by the Allies rise against the occupying army, they are violators of the rules of war and may be put to death on capture.

All offenders against the military law which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is imposing on occupied Germany will have the right to trial. But in practice armed civilians caught in hostile acts are likely to be shot as Allied soldiers naturally would open fire in such cases.

LIBERATOR EXPLODES KILLING 24 U. S. MEN

Birkenhead, England, Oct. 19.—(P)—A B-24 Liberator exploded mysteriously at 6,000 feet altitude near Birkenhead today, crashed in three parts and killed 24 American airmen.

Parts of the bomber narrowly missed persons who rushed from their homes at the sound of the explosion.

HARD BLOWS REPORTED IN DANUBE BASIN

Russians Remain Silent On Offensive Operations Against Enemy In East Prussia

VITAL PASSES TAKEN

By DANIEL DELUCE

Moscow, Oct. 19.—(P)—Swift Russian advances through the Carpathian mountains have liberated one third of the Carpatho-Ukraine, easternmost province of Czechoslovakia, and established virtually a solid front for the Red Army across the wedge of high ground between the Polish and Hungarian plains.

Moscow announced early today that Col. Gen. Ivan D. Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian command, pouring through gaps left in enemy defenses by Hungary's military collapse, had dealt stunning blows to German positions in the rich Danubian basin.

(Col. Ernst Von Hammer, Berlin commentator, said today the Germans had evacuated the border town of Eydtkuhnen in East Prussia.)

Von Hammer said the evacuation occurred after the Russians had thrown in strong tank and infantry formations.)

The Russians remained silent on the offensive operations against East Prussia.

Moscow in the past has followed the policy of silence when a big attack is imminent or just under way.

The Soviet High Command disclosed that Russian troops had captured seven important Carpathian passes in advances ranging from 12 1/2 miles to 31 miles along a 170-mile front.

It also was disclosed that Russian and Romanian forces under Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, commander of the second Ukrainian Army, have been fighting near Sighet for two days after a drive northward through Transylvania.

Another Petrov armored unit struck from Verezhke pass to within 15 miles of Munkacs, one of the three leading towns in the Carpatho-Ukraine, or Ruthenia, which Hungary seized back from Czechoslovakia in April, 1939.

Front dispatches said the mop-up of Belgrade was progressing steadily, with Germans fighting and dying like wild animals in blazing hillside buildings from which they could not escape.

Rules of War To Apply To People's Army

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, Oct. 19.—(P)—The Allied treatment of German people's army which Adolf Hitler is raising to combat invasion will vary according to the circumstances under the rules of war which the United Nations are following.

State Treated To Another Volley of Political Talks

By the Associated Press
Pennsylvanians were treated to another volley of political speeches last night as candidates of both major parties attended rallies in every part of the state.

U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Democrat, invaded Republican Delaware county where he said, in a prepared address, that:

"I am formally placing on record a reward totalling $10,000 for information leading to the arrest of those convicted of any election fraud in this county."

The money, he said, "will be divided into 10 separate rewards of $1,000 each for information leading to a single arrest and conviction."

In Uniontown, GOP National Committeewoman Mrs. Worthington Scranton predicted that "Pennsylvanians definitely will be in the Dewey column on Nov. 7."

She urged 400 women attending an all-day meeting of the southwest regional conference of Republican women to "get out the vote."

Rep. Francis J. Myers, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, told a Johnstown audience that "you know where Roosevelt stands but you can only make guesses as to where Governor Dewey stands."

Judge J. Frank Graff, Republican superior court nominee, said in an address prepared for release at a Huntingdon rally that the "Reds naturally will expect something for their support" of the campaign to re-elect Roosevelt.

Fine Program Arranged For G. O. P. Rally

Plans are now fully completed for the county wide Republican rally to be sponsored by the Young Republican organization of Warren county and held at the YWCA activities building at 8 p. m. Friday.

The Hon. James A. Geltz, state senator from Pittsburgh, will be present to deliver the principal address.

Later in the evening, the group will tune in on Governor Dewey's speech to be made in Pittsburgh, so that all who attend this rally meeting may have the opportunity of hearing the Republican candidate for president.

The YWCA has been appropriately decorated for the occasion by Wagner Korb and her fifth ward committee and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peterson, with their first ward group, will supervise the serving of refreshments following the program.

Bob Whitehill, in charge of music for the affair, has obtained the services of Doc Jordan's Orchestra. A. C. Fieck, Jr., has had in hand the task of securing speakers and publicizing the gathering.

Mrs. Eggleston and her fourth ward committee will have charge of a program of games to occupy a portion of the evening. All of these units have been working diligently under the general leadership of Ralph E. Sires.

This is the first and possibly the only countywide Republican political meeting to be held during the presidential campaign and everyone interested is welcome to come and bring his friends.

A very interesting talk on "putting the Garden to bed in the Autumn" was given by Mr. Davis, who gave freely of his experience as a fine gardener and told of many ways to improve the garden for the coming year by the fall work. In the discussion period which followed, more helpful suggestions were given by Roy McDowell and S. N. Pentecost.

Committees were appointed by the president for the monument plot west of town, their work to include arranging or putting in of a hedge and ground covering. A second committee was appointed to arrange for some competitive flower beds for next summer. The November meeting is also to be a tureen dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. Mertie Kay.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Oct. 16.—(P)—Mrs. Cora Webb was pleasantly surprised at her home Saturday afternoon when a group of neighbors and friends came to help her celebrate her 80th birthday. The affair was planned by her daughter, Mrs. William Payne, of Buffalo, and her neighbors. Refreshments were served, including two large birthday cakes, and Mrs. Webb received many cards and gifts which included a purse of money from her friends who called during the afternoon and evening. Those present from out of town were Mrs. Payne, daughter, Sally, and son, Billie, Mrs. Van Arsdale and daughter, Arlene, of Buffalo, and a nephew, Ira Lewis, of Oakdale, Iowa. Mrs. Webb enjoys good health, caring for her home and attending church affairs. Her many friends join in wishing her good health and happiness.

The auction sale conducted by the finance committee of the Sugar Grove Community Service Club with Carl Norbeck as chairman in the gymnasium Friday evening proved a great success. A good crowd enjoyed a social time and the club will add nearly four hundred dollars to their treasury. Pies and coffee were sold and all kinds of articles, including live stock, clothing, furniture, baked and canned goods were sold with Delmar Mickleson and George Burkland as auctioneers.

Laverne and Olive McGrath Johnson are the parents of a daughter born at their home on the Sugar Grove-Sherman's Bay road, October 13, 1944. Walter Kelley, CPO, USN, and Mrs. Kelley, of Sampson, N. Y., spent the weekend here with friends. Their eldest son, Walter, Jr., who has served in the Navy the past six years, is now serving on the U. S. S. Arkab.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Landolf, daughter, Margaret, and sons, Billy and Jimmy, of Beaver Dams, N. Y., were weekend guests of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McIntosh, Sunday guests at the home were Mr. and Mrs. Keith McIntosh and children of Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Ray McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sidon and family of Warren, Starbrick.

Marvin Bement, S 2/c, who has completed his boot training at Sampson, is spending a leave with his grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle DeLoaux.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlbarg, daughters, Florence and Louise, of Buffalo, and their son, Flight Officer Paul Carlbarg, Jr., who was enroute to Nebraska, spent a few days at their home here last week. Mrs. M. L. Johnson, who lost her husband by death October 7th.

Where Germans Hold U. S. War Prisoners

The map above, prepared from American Red Cross data, shows locations of all camps and hospitals in the Reich and Poland holding five or more American prisoners of war or civilian internees. In addition, a few Americans are held in a camp in Bulgaria, and hundreds of others, formerly held in northern Italy, have been transferred to Germany. "Stalag" indicates enlisted prisoners' camp; "Ofag" one for officers; and "Laz." is abbreviation for lazaret or hospital.

Nation Is Split Again Over Annual Date of Thanksgiving

New York, Oct. 19.—(A.P.)—The nation is split again on when to celebrate Thanksgiving day. Five states, Florida, Idaho, Nebraska, Texas and Virginia, plan to observe Nov. 30 through local choice. Forty-one states and the District of Columbia have fixed Nov. 23 for the holiday, following federal statute. In two states, Arkansas and Georgia, there is a chance that both dates will be recognized. The differences started in 1939 when President Roosevelt, in an effort to provide a longer period between Thanksgiving and Christmas, moved the date ahead one week. At that time, many governors ignored the change and fixed the "traditional" date the fourth or last Thursday in November, set originally by President Lincoln in 1864. In 1941, however, a house joint resolution was approved by the president, fixing the future date as the fourth Thursday. On top of this, many states enacted laws concerning the holiday. But what further complications the picture this year was the fact that five, rather than four, Thursdays fall during the month.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKinn

It's a curious commentary on the world we live in that the word "politics" has become connected in our minds with trickery of some sort. "It's all politics," we say when we are fed up with the promises of demagogues. "It's All Politics" is the very appropriate title of a book by Lewis Abrahams, a study of the abuses of political bosses and their stooges.

LEWIS ABRAHAMS

Miscellaneous items of interest: Thomas Jefferson was known to have run for his first campaign on a personal outlay of $50. . . . In 1940 the total national outlay for the presidential campaign was $50,000,000. . . . In New York the election of 1856 was the most disorderly in history; the list of casualties after it read like a military announcement. . . . Graft in the Federal service has been notorious in times past. Lincoln, inspecting the equipment of his soldiers, discovered the gunpowder wet, guns defective, uniforms which shrank and disintegrated in the rain, shoddy blankets, sick and unfit horses, and unseaworthy ships. During the Spanish-American War, the packers furnished the soldiers with "embalmed beef" so bad that those who were not killed by bullets risked death in the mess hall.

Voting rights were granted by Queen Elizabeth to the husbands of freemen's daughters as a special dowry. Out of this law grew a curious abuse. The women would marry several men on election day in order to get them to vote for their fathers' causes. After a marriage, and after the new husband had voted, the couple would shake hands over a grave, saying "now death do us part." This was regarded as a divorce, and the lady was free to marry another "voter."

The December selection for the Book-of-the-Month Club is "Brave Men" by the popular war correspondent, Ernie Pyle. "Brave Men" covers the war from the Sicilian campaign to the liberation of Paris.

Ludwig Bemelmans, who has been in Hollywood writing movie scripts, went through several weeks receiving no assignment. Finding time heavy on his hands, he occupied himself with painting murals on his studio walls, including such fantasies as a sketch of a kangaroo in whose pouch four offspring were engaged in a hand of bridge. His Hollywood bosses, when they discovered this, were first indignant and ordered that the walls be cleaned. Then someone pointed out that Bemelmans was a famous artist as well as a writer. Now his office has become a showplace to which favorite guests are admitted. "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," Mr. Bemelmans' recent novel, is to be dramatized over CBS next month, on a program called "This Is My Best."

Isaac Evans, Cleveland business man who owns three farms in nearby Geauga County, is a hot Dewey rooster, and is determined to get his rural friends and neighbors out to vote for the G. O. P. candidate, and, incidentally, to persuade Democrats among them to switch allegiance. He's pictured above as, in a survey with a fringe on top, drawn by two thoroughbred especially imported from Kentucky, he conducts a one-man countryside campaign. His electioneering "arguments" include a jug of cider, some cakes and doughnuts and handbills of his own devising.

Chapter 9

IT WAS a few minutes past eight A.M. Terry had hurried through breakfast so they could be on deck when Rory King came off watch. Now, for the first time in her life, Cherry felt suddenly shy as they watched the tall, white-uniformed figure swinging along toward them.

Terry shouted, "Hello, Rory! Anything to report?"

"Good morning, Miss Mayne. Morning, Terry. Nothing to report. Fair weather, sea calm, and we're making good speed." He smiled down at Terry and the girl, holding out lean, strong fingers which the boy grasped. "The captain says I may take you on the bridge this morning and show you how we work the ship."

"Oh, good! Oh, Cherry, isn't that good?"

"Very," Cherry agreed. She asked Rory, "Are you sure you don't mind being wailed every morning? Don't you have to sleep?"

"Oh, that's all right. These mornings are too good to sleep, anyway." His keen eyes swept the sparkling sea. The morning sunlight gleamed on their white uniforms, on their faces. The ship forged steadily through the blue sea that was apparently empty for hundreds of miles, canopied by a sky almost as blue. Rory laughed and drew a deep breath. "It's good to be alive. We shall be baked alive, and a fortnight after that we shall be freezing, probably."

He turned to Cherry. "Will it be all right if I keep him about half an hour?"

"Of course. I have plenty to do."

RORY hesitated. A ship is a small world of its own. Small daily happenings grew big out of all proportion to world events. At sea was always like that, especially on this long voyage. And now, cut off by the war from radio communication, with the knowledge that every day or night might be their last, it was more so. People got close to the face of common danger. Or temperaments clashed more fiercely. Rory heard all the ship's gossip from the purser or the surgeon or the Old Man. It was unavoidable. He knew much more than Cherry dreamed about herself and Douglas and Mrs. Scott-Price. He wanted to ask her what she was feeling about the Coromandel, how she liked her job. All he said, rather shyly, was, "Do you still like it at sea?"

"I love it," she smiled with her eyes as well as her mouth. That look in her eyes would have answered him without words. Rory was pleased. "We'll turn you into a sailor for good, if you're not careful. The sea has magic, you know."

"I know. I'm not afraid."

"Come on, do!" Terry cried impatiently.

"All right, old man, I'm coming." He added, for Cherry's benefit, "It's a good opportunity. All clear as far as we can tell, and allowed himself to be dragged towards the bridge."

ALL clear, thought Cherry as she made beds. What lovely words they were! She hummed a happy, soft song as she worked, so that Bert, the steward, scrubbing out the next cabin, grinned suddenly to himself. Miss Mayne was a peach, a good sport if ever there was one. He liked to hear her happy as a lark. He'd been polishing the ports just now and seen her on deck talking with Mr. King, and it didn't take much brain to add two and two. Bert was incurably romantic under his tough cockney mask. He hoped those two would make a go of it. It wouldn't, in any case, be the usual silly shipboard romance. Mr. King was a good officer, with no damned nonsense of that sort about him. It was wonderful to see him taking time off to speak to a woman, even. None of your holding-hands-in-the-moonlight about Mr. King.

He'd have his own ship in a year or two, if Bert knew anything about seamanship. — and Miss Mayne was just the girl for him. Sensible, with the real class that doesn't jibe at a hard job of work, not the rubbish show that women like Mrs. Scott-Price put on. Bert scrubbed the deck viciously, as if soap and water might remove the scented reminder of the cabin's owner. First jumped-up little piece of goods! The way she spoke to them all, especially Cherry, made his blood boil. Cherry never complained, but the galley had its own hush telegraph. People like Mrs. Scott-Price didn't hold water down there, not by a long chalk. No amount of tipping ever altered the verdict below decks. Miss Mayne might be one of the crew, but she was a real lady—and that was something Mrs. Scott-Price could never do. With all her money, not even if she hooked old Sir Douglas Pennimore, as they said she was trying hard enough to do. Bert whistled as he mopped the sill with a final flourish. He was always glad to finish that cabin. He couldn't get into it until it was almost dark for inspection, and it was the devil of a rush to get into his white coat before the Old Man came around. . . .

All clear sang Cherry's heart as she finished her dusting. It was a glorious morning. Rory was right. It was grand to be alive on such a day.

Chapter 10

CHERRY tidied herself in her own cabin. Nearly all her flowers had gone, withered in the hot, stuffy night air when the ship was closed; but she still had three marigolds alive, and a cluster of fern. Their bright, merry faces seemed to smile at her today. She had never felt younger, happier, more alive. She went outside to take her place in the rank of stewards all standing stiffly at attention.

Waiting for the captain and chief steward to reach her end of the alley, she closed her eyes for a moment, almost afraid of the happiness that was welling inside her. There was no rhyme or reason for this sudden ecstasy, this joy in living that was a most painfully sweet. But she couldn't help it. It was the first time she'd set eyes on Rory for six days. They hadn't been easy days, avoiding Sir Douglas and trying to keep Julia equable. Now she realized she had missed Rory, missed him as one misses an old and cherished friend. And that's absurd, she told herself, because he doesn't even know I'm here, really. If I got off the ship at Panama he'd forget my name in a couple of days. He might remember Terry for a while, but not me. He's only interested in the ship, in his work.

She wondered if Pip were right, and if it were natural for a man to be quite so absorbed in his job. Perhaps Rory was in love with some girl ashore. He might even be engaged. She knew, she realized with a sudden pang, absolutely nothing about his private life. And he wasn't the sort of man to talk about his private concerns. She was putting a perfectly ridiculous significance upon a few kindly words, and the odd feeling whenever they were together that they were both seeing and feeling the same things. The sea has a magic—she smiled at herself.

In a few weeks she would disembark from the Coromandel and within a few days they would only remember her as the young stewardess who happened to come along and help them out of a quandary when Miss Harris fell ill. She was, after all, only a talented amateur. Cherry sighed, and opened her eyes.

The sudden silence down the rank of waiting stewards told her that the inspection had started. Simultaneously, on the bridge—

TERRY was only six-and-a-half, but he was so intelligent and eager about everything that Rory found himself going into things far more thoroughly than he intended. There were the big land maps he pored over, and from them Rory was able to explain how every mile of the sea was charted in just the same way. It opened up a new wonderland for Terry.

"Then there are mountains and valleys and things under the sea? Gosh, I thought the sea was all flat."

"If it was all flat, we wouldn't need charts, old man. We have to be very careful to stay in deep water, or we might get stranded on a sandbank, or run into a rocky island during the night."

"Fancy sailing over the top of a mountain! We might be on top of a mermaid's castle now!"

"We might be. They have wonderful trees and plants down there, you know — coral all the colors of the rainbow for flowers — big fish and little fish for animals — almost everything we have on land."

Terry pointed to a deep blue patch on the chart. "That's where the Mermaid Queen would live, don't you think? Tell me what sort of a palace she would have."

They went into the wheelhouse, to Terry's unspeakable delight. "How do we know where we're going? The sea looks all the same, everywhere."

Rory pointed out the compass wheel. "I'll take you up and show you the actual compass. We steer that, not by looking at the sea."

"Then why do you have to watch?"

"We have to keep checking our bearings, and we watch the sea for anything unexpected that might crop up."

"Oh, I see." Terry skipped along beside him, feeling the hot rays of the sun as they mounted the compass platform. Rory showed him how to take a bearing from the sun, and from the stars at night, and took him down again to exhibit the automatic helmsman and a dozen gadgets that fascinated the small boy. Terry ran the width of the bridge, peered into the armored pillboxes that mounted guns at either end, and got one of the gunners to explain the inside workings of an anti-aircraft gun to him. When he had finished his tour of inspection he stood beside Rory staring over the smooth sea, his active mind held still by imagining what lay below that smooth blue surface.

"TELL me what the Mermaid Queen's palace is like," he begged again.

Rory told him, making up the story as he went along, amused at his own inventive powers. In his years at sea he had never before stopped to imagine what the Mermaid Queen was like, and to build her a rugged, rocky palace with waving seaweed for ferns, and giant coral for trees, and little star-faced coral for flowers. He drew upon the wonders he had seen in the Pacific Islands, and piece by piece built up a story that left Terry wide-eyed and delighted. He loved especially the Mermaid Queen herself, with long hair the color of amber in sunshine, and big gray eyes with dark, sweeping lashes, and a gown of rainbow sequins.

"Oh, she's nice! You make her sound the teeniest wee thing, but like Cherry!" he demanded.

Rory colored slightly under his tan. "Maybe. Yes, I should think she is rather like Cherry," he admitted in an odd, far-away sort of voice.

MACARTHUR KEEPING HIS PROMISE

Japanese reports that the re-occupation of the Philippines has begun are, as usual, subject to revision for accuracy, but fit perfectly into the picture of the Pacific war which has been building up for some time.

Whether the Leyte gulf action is actually a part of a general invasion or merely a preliminary is of little moment. Either way it means that within a comparatively short time MacArthur will have kept his promise to return.

Never before in world history has there been such a battle as that for the Philippines, which is actually what the entire Pacific war has amounted to so far.

Japanese outposts have been pushed back gradually for thousands of miles to prepare for this action. Even Admiral Halsey's activities of the last few days, in a comparatively small corner of the great ocean, have been staged on a scale to stagger the imagination. He has thrown a great arc of protection between the Philippines and Japan, destroyed 915 enemy planes and with them the threat of aerial counter-action, sunk or damaged 312 ships, and smashed many of the bases from which both operated. Now history's greatest fleet and greatest floating air force can be placed at the disposal of MacArthur.

It brings the climax of two long years of fighting a cunning enemy in the jungles of the southwest Pacific with one hand while building, slowly and bitterly under the handicaps of priorities for Europe, the striking force for the return to the hallowed fortresses around Manila.

The battle will be bloody, but we can hope it will not be long.

DOWN ON THE POSTWAR FARM

It may be that the beating of swords into plowshares will take on a new twist after this war. Already the jeep, or some form of it, is promised for farm work. The Department of Agriculture says that come postwar we shall be able to attack mosquitos with the aerosol bomb, apparently a combination of air raid and gas attack which is harmless to man.

A message from France says that mine detectors have been used by G. I.'s to locate caches of brandy that French farmers buried to keep from the Germans. And if this can be done, it seems reasonable that we may see a modification of the detector capable of locating woodchucks and gophers, and of divining where grandma left her spectacles or mother hid the family nest egg.

Perhaps, too, the bazooka will come to replace the scarecrow and shotgun as guardian of the vegetable garden. And if Junior, sent to find the wandering herd and bring it in for milking, may line up their position with his portable walkie-talkie.

It may be necessary to revise Mother Goose to read: "The jeep's in the meadow, the cow's in the corn."

Discussions with other PTA presidents at the recent state convention in Philadelphia sent Mrs. Walter Mather, Community Council president, home with an increased feeling of pride in her home community. Her query of other leaders concerning their youth recreation activities revealed that in none of their communities have school authorities given permission for use of school buildings for after-school-hours festivities such as the community youth parties held here and in no other community have the young people themselves responded in such numbers and with such enthusiasm as have marked the parties given here this summer and fall under the PTA Council's auspices.

LET'S STOP BEING SCHOOLBOYS

(From The American Legion Monthly)

Let's stop being schoolboys, ashamed to speak up for ourselves.

Marshal Stalin has made it plain that he is for Russia, come hell or high water. Mr. Churchill said that he did not become prime minister to preside at the liquidation of the British Empire.

Let us say to the world in plain words that we are first of all for America and that we expect to use the ports and bases and sealanes and airways established by the sacrifice of American lives and American savings, for the benefit and protection of America.

Now that V-1 has been conquered, the Allies are pressing on toward V-E Day before the Nazis can bring the promised V-2 and V-3 to bear upon them. And in anticipation of V-E (and of course of the more distant V-J or just plain V Day) the British have begun production of V-U (a new victory uniform for the march through Berlin). Washington's alphabetical symbols are becoming positively global.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

Attorney George Munn has moved his law office from the Warren Trust Company building to the second floor of the Leonhart building on Liberty street.

The Senior Class of the Sheffield High School enjoyed an outing at Gusty's Inn Wednesday night. The class was transported in automobiles and several of the teachers made the trip with the class. Dancing and games passed the evening.

The Boy Scout fall rally and series of contests will be held in Crescent Park in Warren on November 8th starting at 1:45. It is expected that scores of Scouts will take part in the various events.

The Youngville branch of the Isank Walton League is growing in a fine shape and there are now 65 active members.

The Ladies Aid of the Swedish Lutheran church gave a musical program in the church last night and the sum of $61 was realized for the benefit of the orphans home at New Britain, Conn.

Spotting of deer is a bad practice and the game wardens of this section have warned against it. Many merely throw the lights on the deer just to view the animals but there are others who chase and even shoot the animals.

The Warren County Boy Scout Council is arranging for Boy Scout field days to be held during this month. One will be at Youngville on Saturday, Oct. 21 and another will be held at Wildcat Park in Ludlow one week later.

The Wheeler and Dusenberry Lumber Company of Endeavor is arranging to close its big mill at Endeavor and to sell all of its cut over lands to the Federal government. This lumbering operation has been one of the largest in this end of the state.

The Salvation Army yesterday obtained two fine deer which were cut up and given to needy families. One was killed by a car near Tidouate and the other had been shot by some unknown person.

How TO RUIN DRESSES AND LOSE FRIENDS

IT'S tragic how many girls lose their friends and ruin their dresses because of perspiration odor and stains. And there's no excuse for it. It's easy to save dresses, it's easy to save friends.

Use Arid, the new cream deodorant that helps keep your armpits dry and removes the odor from perspiration. Arid is safe and dependable for these five reasons:

1. Arid does not irritate skin. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts.

2. Prevents under-arm odor. Helps stop perspiration safely.

3. A pure, white, antiseptic, stainless vanishing cream.

4. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.

5. Awarded Approval Seal of American Institute of Laundering, harmless to fabric. Use Arid regularly.

Arid is the largest selling deodorant. Sold at all stores selling toilet goods — 39¢ and 59¢ a jar. (Plus Tax)

Lander

Lander, Oct. 13—Mrs. Elmer Thompson accompanied Mrs. Paul Mead to Vernon, N. Y., to visit the latter's daughter Mrs. James Martin. Staff Sergeant William Knapp, who has been spending a furlough with his father Henry Knapp leaves Tuesday for Camp Beale, Calif.

About forty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Coates honoring their son Sergeant Gerald Coates and wife, who have been visiting their parents here and the latter's parents in Sheffield. The evening was spent visiting and with music, after which refreshments were served. The honor guests were presented a purse of money. They leave Friday for San Antonio, Texas.

Mary Louise and Clayton White spent a few days with their aunt Mrs. George Hall at Jamestown. The auction sale held at Fred Ludwicks Friday was well attended.

The classes in the Lander school have elected their officers as follows: Senior class, president, Russell Thelin; vice president, Violet Clark; secretary, Joyce Stanton; treasurer, Rachel Hitchcock.

INJURED SEAMAN HOME ON LEAVE

Seaman First Class Melvin J. McConnell has arrived home on a five-day leave from the naval hospital in New York City where he has been a patient for the past week as a result of injuries received when the destroyer on which he serves was damaged at sea in the recent hurricane. He is visiting his wife, Adeline McConnell, of Corry, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McConnell, Cobham Park road.

Word has been received by the McConnells from another son, Petty Officer Joseph R. McConnell, that he is participating in the Formosa campaign as member of a bomber squadron.

IS DECORATED

Mrs. Myrtle Dixon, 315 Laurel street, has had word from her son, S. Sgt. Loren Rowland, located somewhere in France, that he has been awarded a Silver Cluster and has 33 missions to his credit. He also stated he had recently met a Red Cross worker from Warren, Mary Craft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Craft, Liberty street.

FRANCES GROSCH IS TRANSFERRED

Frances Groesch, Red Cross recreational worker, has been transferred from Kessler Field, Miss., to Stark General Hospital at Charleston, S. C., one of the units receiving evacuation cases as they come from debarkation points and processing them for transfer to other medical centers.

WOUNDED IN FRANCE

Word has been received here that Pvt. Leon Abbott, formerly of Warren, was wounded in action in France in September and has been awarded the Purple Heart. He is the son of Mrs. Belle Abbott, Greenhurst, N. Y., and is a graduate of Warren High School. He left Jamestown with the 174th Infantry on September 23, 1940.

CONVALESCING

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rowland, 118 Russell street, have received word that their son, Pfc. Carter J. Rowland, is convalescing in a hospital in France. He was wounded in the arm several weeks ago and has been awarded the Purple Heart.

IN NAVAL HOSPITAL

MISSION SUNDAY

Next Sunday, Oct. 22, will be Mission Sunday in all churches of the Erie Catholic diocese. During the past year the Society for the Propagation of the Faith collected and spent the record-breaking sum of $32,235, or $8,000 more than during the preceding year.

NOTE TO DRIVERS

Harry A. Summers, director of the High School Dragon Band, asks that all Music Booster members who are providing cars to transport band members to Bradford Friday night will meet at the school at 5:15 to make up their loads and be ready to leave no later than 5:30.

HARVEST NEAR END

The work of German war prisoners in Chautauqua county's food processing plants will probably be completed this week. About half of the detachment at the Chautauqua County Fairgrounds camp near Dunkirk, left Monday to return to Fort Niagara. The remainder will probably depart on or about October 29.

FOREST FIRE

The emergency truck of the department of forests and waters, manned by Jay Pees, was called to the vicinity of Shipman's Eddy yesterday by a small forest fire. Confined to about a half-acre area, the blaze was soon controlled and extinguished. This fire, however, emphasizes the need for extreme caution on the part of anyone entering the woods at this time of year when fallen leaves carpet the ground and provide an excellent carrier for fire.

HALLOWEEN PRANKS

An unusually large number of complaints are being received about depredations committed to youngsters in the form of Halloween pranks. Some time during the night frames were removed from a show case in front of the Thomas Studio in East street. Found later by the police one of them was found to have been broken. Parents should caution children against committing acts of vandalism during the Halloween season. Drastic police action may be resorted to if the destruction of property continues.

Personal Paragraphs

Mrs. Albert Rockwell, West Third avenue, left Wednesday for a few days in New York City.

Mrs. Richard M. Ross and twin daughters, 204 Canton street, will leave tomorrow for Clifton, N. J., to attend the wedding of their sister and aunt, Miss Grace Schultheis to Lieut. James A. McCall, Wednesday, October 25. Mrs. Ross will serve her sister as matron of honor. Miss Schultheis has been a frequent visitor in Warren where she has many friends who will be interested in the announcement.

and would like to hear from his friends. Another brother, Bill, is attending naval school at Norfolk, Va.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR PFC. MILLER

Memorial services for Pfc. Frank D. Miller, son of Clement L. Miller, of Spring Creek, will be held in the Spring Creek church at ten o'clock Sunday morning, October 22. Pfc. Miller was killed in France on September 21.

To Be Party Guest

PVT. EDNA MATHA

A farewell party will be held at 6:30 this evening at the Salvation Army citadel for Pvt. Edna Matha, army worker who leaves next week to begin her basic training as a member of the Women's Army Corps.

Miss Matha has been a faithful member of the Salvation Army all her life, being dedicated in the Salvation Army and also as a member of the Cradle Roll. She has grown up through the ranks of the army, starting in the Junior Legion and coming on up through the Crusaders and Torchbearer organization. At present she is the Young People's Legion secretary in charge of the Torchbearer group, which includes those of 15 to 30 years of age.

At the age of 13, she became a member of the Corps Cadet brigade of the Warren Corps. This is a six year Bible course that young people take in the Salvation Army to prepare them for local officership in the ranks and also to prepare them for officership if they desire to become Salvation Army officers. She graduated from this group when she was 18 years of age with high honors.

Pvt. Matha has been a faithful band member for many years and at the present time is playing solo euphonium part. The band will certainly miss her.

When the war is over, Pvt. Matha expects to come back and again take her place in the Salvation Army Corps in Warren.

Success of Football Party Is Tribute To Efforts of Many on Committees

(Special to the Times-Mirror) The Community Young People's Football party, celebrating the scoreless tie football classic of the afternoon, was attended Saturday evening by the largest group of teenagers at any of the parties which have been held at Betty's School. Nearly 600 young people enjoyed a varied program in the gymnasium, auditorium and game rooms. Both teams attended as honored guests and the committee, headed by chairman Bob Wilder, was particularly pleased at the large group of Jamestown young people who stayed over for the party.

Harry Summers started the party with group singing in which the young people joined. Mac McCarthy had charge of the orchestra music again, with Jack MacDonald at the piano, Nick Geraci at the drums, Don Brown at the sax, and Bob Dietrich, home on leave, who sat in on a few numbers on the sax.

It was possible to handle the crowd more satisfactorily Saturday evening with the innovation of a music listening room in the auditorium, a game room and ping pong tables set up in other parts of the building. Eleanor Peters had charge of the program of recorded music in the auditorium and Dick Blair, assisted by Bob Blair, handled the games.

The Gernetti twins turned out to be Nick Geraci and Louis Chimenti who had a comedy tap routine act. Nancy Geraci was enthusiastically received in two numbers. Her accompanist was Eleanor Peters. Because of illness, both Joan Martin and Fern Mostert were unable to appear for their numbers. But Teresa Fino filled in for the emergency with her singing which again pleased the young people, who gave her a real ovation. Bill Anderson acted as master of ceremonies.

The decorating committee headed by Georgia Spinney, received special praise for the original aerial football motif carried out in the gymnasium. Dick Kauffman and John Erickson were responsible for the clever cutouts of football figures in action. Others who assisted in the preparations for another highly successful party were Mary Ann Hufund, Sally Mooney, Jean Ellberg, Gretchen Radspinner, Jean Hunzinger, Peggy Finley, Marie Kammerer, Alice Richards, Cynthia Calderwood, Eleanor Nelson, Dorothy Anderson, Susan Lester, Pat Lawson, Nick Geraci, Dumas Wilder, Bob Wilder, Fred Prinz, Bill Peters, Rowell Hoff, Jean McLane, Jim Farrell, Russell Nason, David Spies, Barbara Evan, Shirlee Evan, Barbara Slekstrom, Joyce Ettinger, Angie Rizzo, Barbara Nichols, Lois Newgreen, Jean Ryberg, Martha Sedon, Joyce Rapp, Helen Lundahl, Jane Nystrom, Barbara Coe, Betty Laufberger, Bettie Dickinson, Jack Cooney, Allan Schuler, Ed Wallace, Martha Sedon, Jean Ryberg, Patty Newell, Virginia Johnson, Geraldine Peterson, Nancy Wickstrom, Rachel Smith, Mary Ann Masterson, Joan Benigini, Guilio Fino, Wilmer Lathaw, Dolores Massa, Johanna Shine, Nancy Maneval, Jean Zeiders and Jane Nystrom.

Adults assisting in the party preparations, in addition to regular party committee members were Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Mathyer, Miss Cecilia Burch and E. Ross Carlson. Adult guests invited in addition to the coaches, J. B. Leidig, Joe Massa, Harry Hutchings and their wives, were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bathurst, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters, of Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Basil White, Miss Christine Hurd and Mrs. Franklin Hoff, A. D. Griffin.

Young people assisting Teresa Fino on the Refreshments Committee were Dora Messner, Meredith Hutchings, Joan Cameron, Jean Crossett, Charles Fredricks, Elizabeth Bathurst, Harry Kriedler, Eleanor Nelson, Henry Blick, Cynthia Calderwood, William Fuelhart, Mary Hill, Robert Gigg, Jane Tritt, Allan Schuler, Lorna Mae Hulings, Charles Cochener, Marjorie Hanna, Fred Prinz, Charles Sires, Jo Ann Phillips, Jean Way, Joanne Hunzinger, Audrey Myers, Martha Winans, Sophie Spiridon, Lois Sigworth, Olga Glassman, Joanne Wendelboe, Betty Lou Hook and Rosemary Stricker.

Those assisting Jim Farrell on the Floor Committee and Clean-up were Phil Johnson, Duane Wilder, David Spies, Ed Wood, Dale Soderburg, David Leddig, Rowell Hoff, Guilio Fino, Dick Blair, Charles Cochener and some of the members of other committees.

The committee which planned the party and was in charge consisted of Bob Wilder, chairman, Mrs. Olive Huff, supervisor, Georgia Spinney, Guilio Fino, Mrs.

DAC Chapter To Be Represented at State Session

Mrs. Harold Hawkey, of Tidouate and Mrs. Robert Selden, of Norriston, will represent Kanoaga Chapter of Warren when the state conference of the Daughters of American Colonists is held in Philadelphia this weekend.

The Bellevue-Stratford Hotel is conference headquarters and all sessions will be held there Sunday and Monday. Mrs. John F. Kuhns, state regent from Erie will preside. The state board will receive delegates informally from 4 until 6 p. m. Sunday in the state regent's suite and Mrs. Kuhns will entertain the state board at breakfast at 8 a. m. Monday, a meeting of the board to follow immediately. Conference business will get under way at 10:30 Monday and will close with a beautiful memorial service at noon. It is interesting to note that one of the luncheon speakers that day will be Rev. John Craig Roak, rector of Gloria Dei, known as Old Swede's church and the oldest church in Pennsylvania.

Named among the many who have a part in the conference plans and activities is Mrs. Hawkey, who is a member of the registrations and credentials committee.

Methodist Units Engage Bouton As November Speaker

Founders Hall in the First Methodist church was the scene where 45 members enjoyed a delicious tureen dinner served by the Allen Class on Tuesday evening.

Devotions on the topic of tolerance were presented by Miss Frances O'Neill, who chose appropriate excerpts from Ben Franklin. The Acts of the Scriptures, and E. Stanley Jones.

A business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. N. D. Peterson, after which the group adjourned to the parlors for the evening's program in charge of Mrs. A. L. Stevens.

A very interesting and informative sound film was shown by Archie Hunter entitled "Prelude to War", No. 1 of the series, "Why We Fight". The chairman of the committee was Mrs. H. Leafstrom.

An important announcement was made that the November plans include joining with the Men's Bible Class in presenting S. Miles Bouton in an address on "Mighty Men of the Bible." This will be an event taking place on November 21 to which the whole community will look forward with anticipation. More definite announcement of plans will be made soon in these columns.

Mrs. Carlin Will Attend State DAR Convention Soon

When the Pennsylvania State Society, Daughters of the American Revolution meets in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia on October 24, 25 and 26, Mrs. Warren R. Carlin, Liberty street, will be attending sessions in a double capacity.

She will go to the convention as the state chairman of conservation and as the alternate from the General Joseph Warren Chapter, taking the place of the regent, Mrs. Leon Laszkaris.

The state regent, Mrs. Benjamin Ramage Williams, of Butler, will preside at the war project conference and chapter of the Philadelphia Regent's Club will be hostesses.

A memorial service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in Christ church. When the convention opens with a meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday, the president general, Mrs. Julius Young Talmadge, of Athens, Ga., and the state regent will make the principal addresses. Sessions Wednesday and Thursday will open at 9 a. m. and chapter regents will meet Wednesday at 2:30. Speaker for the annual dinner Wednesday evening will be the Hon. Ordo M. Brees, member of the New York state legislature, who was recently in Warren to address teachers' institute.

Among the many things to come before the convention will be the DAR's part in national defense, their approved schools, sale of war bonds and stamps, Red Cross activities, work at Ellis and Angel Islands, educational work of the American Indian committee and the national project of a bell tower at Valley Forge.

Many Activities Are Outlined By The Girl Reserves

One of the busiest younger groups in Warren is the Girl Reserve department of the YWCA, which is carrying on a full schedule of meetings and activities under the direction of the new secretary, Barbara Lesser. Following is their outline of current events:

Last Thursday evening the Sophomore Girls' Club made the last of a series of visits to the Central Station.

On Saturday the Junior-Senior Club gave the annual tea for the Warren-Jamestown girls, and, on Monday night, they held installation of officers and a candlelight ceremonial to end their membership campaign. At this time each Girl Reserve received a membership card. A short business meeting followed and the evening was completed with the singing of popular songs by Dale Holcomb and the serving of refreshments.

The program for next meeting is to be in the form of a Halloween party.

On Tuesday afternoon, the Beauty Club of seventh and eighth grade girls held their annual election and named the following officers: JoAnn Ettinger, president; Marilyn Dietsch, vice president; Bonnie Lauffer, secretary; Ruth Sedon, treasurer; Helen Mathyer, program chairman. After discussing plans for a Halloween party, games were played to conclude the afternoon.

The Freshman Girls' Club presented their weekly meeting as the final gate for memberships. The installation of officers was followed by a candlelight ceremonial at which time each girl received her membership card.

Any girl who wishes to join a club that has already ended its membership drive may still do so by payment of dues to her respective treasurer or the Girl Reserve secretary. All Beauty and high school girls will be welcomed by the Girl Reserve department at any time.

Reception Honors New Minister At Clarendon Church

A reception was given in the Clarendon Methodist church Tuesday evening honoring the Rev. L. V. Mohrkern, and family, newly appointed by conference to serve that charge.

There were 70 persons in attendance and the following program numbers were presented in the church auditorium:

Selections by the church orchestra; address of welcome, Mrs. Dora Taylor; response, Rev. Mohrkern; group of two piano numbers, Clara Nielsen and Joyce Barnes; vocal duet, Jean and Janet Sleeman.

Guests were then invited to the church dining room, gaily decorated in keeping with the Halloween season, and refreshments were served by members of Women's Society of Christian service.

LACY UNIT HEARS SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Floyd M. Bathurst, principal of Warren High School, was guest speaker for the October meeting of the Lacy PTA held last evening in charge of Mrs. Albert Ristau, program chairman. Mr. Bathurst's subject was "What the Schools are Doing for the Community." He gave the ultimate aim, training for useful citizenship. To accomplish this the following objectives were outlined: Fundamental skills, recognition of individual differences, education to adjust one's self to society, health training, training for leadership and training for tolerance.

The program opened with the salute to the flag and singing under the direction of Miss Frances Peterson. Mrs. F. J. Kottmar presented Chester Seymour, executive of Boy Scouts, who spoke of the growth of the Scout organization in this community and told of the activity of the Boy Scouts in the collection of milk weed pods and waste paper. This talk was followed by a report given by Rev. S. R. Schieb on the Troop 11, which the organization is helping to sponsor.

Mrs. Kottmar, president, gave a very interesting report of the state convention held in Philadelphia, the theme of which was "Penn-

Fall Spading Good for Most Victory Gardens

1—Open initial trench. 2—Loosen spit of soil. 3—Lift spit, turning it over. 4—Let spit fall so that top soil is below. Soil removed from first trench is used to fill the last.

Fall spading or plowing of garden is desirable whenever heavy sod is to be turned under or manure or plant debris is to be incorporated with the soil. It is beneficial and saves time in established gardens where the surface is level and not subject to washing.

In the case of a garden with sloping surface likely to suffer serious erosion and leaching, fall spading may increase this danger, and result in more injury than benefit. If the soil can be prepared and a cover crop grown before winter sets in, erosion will be checked, and the soil will be enriched by spading the cover crop under in the spring.

Fall spading is especially good for heavy soils since they are broken down by alternate thawing and freezing. To facilitate this frost action, and also to help retain moisture the surface should be left rough, without leveling or smoothing, until spring. Such soil is in some ways most trying to the amateur, but it repays in good measure well-directed efforts put upon it.

Heavy soils are made friable by breaking up the cohesion of their fine particles. This is best accomplished by mixing with them decayed animal or vegetable material, which makes humus. Anything which is decayed or will decay readily is useful, but substances slow to decay should not be mixed with the soil of a cultivated garden. All wood except the finest shavings and dust are detrimental. Leaves decay slowly and should be buried deeply or piled up to rot in a composite heap.

Other things than humus are useful in making clay soil friable. Pulverized limestone is excellent, for it not only loosens but sweetens the soil. Wood ashes, hard coal ashes, sand and even cinders will serve. Much is accomplished by tillage.

Each time soil is handled its manipulation becomes easier and its condition better, provided a single precaution is taken, which is especially important with heavy soils. Never work any soil when it is too wet and never clay soil when it is too dry.

Systematic spading makes the job easier, and more complete. Here is one way to do it: Set a definite task for your first day's work, say a strip six feet wide, running the shortest dimension of the garden. At one end dig a ditch, say one foot wide and the depth of the spade, removing all soil from it. Pile this soil near the opposite end of the strip.

Now begin to spade. The spade should be driven down, not on a slant, but perpendicularly to its full depth. Take a small slice of the soil, so your back is not strained. Lift it up, turn the spade over, so that the top soil falls underneath and bottom soil on top. In filling the first trench, you have opened a second.

If you wish to spade under manure, spread it evenly over the area, except for the top of your initial trench. When this first trench has been dug, clean the manure from the top of the next trench and throw it into the bottom of the first; then proceed with your spading, piling the soil on top of the manure.

SENECA UNIT

The Seneca P.T.A. met at the school house last evening with a good attendance. Theresa Fino played for the opening exercises and Mrs. Hetrick had charge of the devotions. At the business meeting, two delegates were appointed to attend the convention at Corry next week. Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served by Mrs. Forsgren and her committee.

For her musical program, Mrs. Ristau presented a vocal trio, Melba Olsen, Elvira Rydholm and Lillian Ristau, accompanied by Miss Frances Peterson. They sang two numbers, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" and "Sweet and Low". Miss Lauretta Dunkle received the room award, having the largest number of parents present. Concluding, refreshments were served by the mothers of Miss Brown's room, the committee being Mrs. Roger Mahaffy and Mrs. George Zobrest.

Some Things Needed Badly Are Now Being Manufactured

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—Some of the things Americans have wanted badly since the war started are being made now—or will be shortly—but don't expect the market to be flooded with them.

They include: Domestic vacuum cleaners, aluminum ware, domestic electric cooking and heating appliances, kitchen and household utensils, metal office furniture, plated silverware.

The number of such items being produced will not fill all civilian needs. This kind of production is fairly scattered and limited and many of the plants are small.

But these items and many others are being made under what the War Production Board (WPB) calls spot-authorizations. This is how it works:

On Aug. 15, WPB said in effect: Plants which are not needed in whole, or in part, for war work, which are in areas not too badly pressed for manpower, and which can be spared the materials will be allowed to make civilian goods. Plants in such a situation ask for permission. If they fulfill the requirements listed above, WPB gives the permission on materials and the War Manpower Commission (WMC) on manpower.

The plan is intended to help plants convert to civilian production where they can do so without incurring the war effort. It starts the general reconversion rolling.

At the same time such plants—until Germany collapses and almost all government controls are lifted—will be kept working, their workers will be kept employed, and they can be used for producing civilian goods.

Since Aug. 15 WPB has received 2,500 applications for spot-authorizations and has approved about 500.

(This spot-authorizations program is in addition to WPB's long-standing "programmed" production plan under which it orders certain plants to make certain needed civilian items.)

Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—Insane veterans of this war stand less chance of having sizeable estates built up for them than insane veterans of World War I.

Reason: World War I veterans received double disability pay from the government for their war-caused insanity.

They received a pension and, if their insanity was considered a total disability, they received government war insurance payments of $57.50 a month.

This was insane veterans receive a disability pension but no insurance disability payments. The insurance issued in this war is life insurance. It is payable only upon the death of a serviceman or veteran. It protects his survivors, not him.

It is that $57.50 insurance disability that makes or made a big difference in building up an insane veteran's estate.

See how it adds up: $57.50 for 12 months is $690. Over a period—say 18 years—that $57.50 would be $1,035. That tidy estate would be even larger if invested.

The estates of a number of World War I insane veterans ranged between $10,000 and $30,000. Some reached $40,000 and $50,000 even though it meant that, because they were insane, they died without touching a penny of it and the money went to survivors.

These, of course, were mostly hospitalized cases. With no Sam footing the hospital bills and the benefits piling up, the estates grew.

But the insane veteran of this war, even though hospitalized, doesn't figure to have a big estate. If he's hospitalized and has no dependents, his regular pension will be sharply cut, and he will receive no insurance pay at all.

If he has dependents, however, his pension goes to them whether or not he is hospitalized. His beneficiaries get his insurance when he dies.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, Oct. 16—The Missionary Society of the Lutheran church held their October meeting on last Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors with Mrs. P.
A. Anderson and Mrs. Waldo Connelly as hostesses. The president, Mrs. C. J. Carlson opened the meeting with prayer and devotionals. The regular business meeting was held with a letter being read by Mrs. Carl Lundgren, wife of the former pastor. She stressed the need for the money given to the Boxes of Blessings Fund. At the suggestion of Mrs. Amalia Mattison, an interesting lecture with illustrations is being planned.
The lecture to be given by a woman from Bradford. The date will be announced later. Annual contributions and assessments were given from the collected funds. A reading was given by Mrs. Axel K. Anderson and a vocal solo was given by Mrs. Emil Nelson, after which a closing hymn was sung. There were twenty-six in attendance. The hostesses served lunch at the close of the program.

The Lutheran Brotherhood was entertained at the church by Carl Swanson and Emil Nelson on Thursday evening. The president,
Clyde Gilfert, opened the meeting with Scripture reading. There was no business of importance. The following program was given:
Reading, Adolph Johnson; saxaphone solo, Thomas Nelson; reading, Lyell Carr; trumpet solo,
James Nelson; reading, Enoch
Nelson; song, choir. Refreshments were served by the hosts at the end of the meeting. Prior to the Brotherhood, a church board meeting was held, led by the Reverend Carl Nelson of Wilcox.

The American Legion will sponsor
the National War Fund drive
beginning on Monday of this week.
They will be assisted by American Legion Auxiliary members who are divided into the same teams as of last year. You may expect representatives of this group at your home this week. Mr. L. B.
Connelly, Post Commander, announced the beginning of the drive and stated that the quota is the same as last year.

The American Legion Auxiliary was entertained by Mrs. Oscar Mortenson at her home on Tuesday evening of last week. The new officers conducted this meeting.
The officers are Mrs. Arthur
Christenson, president; first vice,
Mrs. Silas Johnson; second vice,
Mrs. Clyde Gilfert; secretary, Mrs.
John Johnson; treasurer, Mrs.
Lawrence Olson; Sgt. at Arms,
Mrs. Oscar Mortenson. It was decided to have a joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary for the November meeting at the DeForest Pavilion in Wildcat Park. Teams were appointed for the National War Fund drive which begins immediately. The hostess served lunch in the late evening.

The Red Cross needs workers at all times. The Lutheran Circle will meet in the Red Cross rooms on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Lyell Carr, Intermediate
Girl Scout leader, reports much interest shown as there are thirteen intermediates from last year and one new Scout, a transfer from Jackson, Mississippi, Miss Betty Lou Palmer. There are five Brownies to move up shortly and prospects of several new Scouts.
Their program is interesting and one that should be of vital interest to all girls from ten to fourteen years of age.

The president of the Senior Girl Scout Troop, Miss Carol Carr, announces a collection of old clothing will be made on Saturday, Oct. 21, by this group which will be used for refugees, especially of Greece. These clothes will go through the regular channels for division. Just now at house-cleaning time, you will find many old clothes to discard which will be of great value to some war torn person in Europe. The Girl Scouts will be happy to receive these clothes and will collect them from door to door next Saturday.

The Junior and Senior High School classes held a skating party on Thursday night at the Shefing was opened by the president, Mrs. Wenstran and an election of officers was held with the following results: President, Mrs. Wen-stran; vice president, Mrs. Albert

Carlson; secretary, Mrs. Lyell
Carr; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Johnson. A great many surgical dressings were done in the afternoon after which lunch was served by the hostess. This group also works at the rooms every Tuesday following their meeting date.

Mr. Edward Berry of Kane was a Ludlow caller on Saturday.
Mrs. G. A. Olson entered the Kane Community Hospital on Thursday for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox were Sunday guests at the home of Mr.

Women's Division Lauded For Fine Support In Drive

Edward W. Johnson, general chairman of the Warren County United War Fund Campaign has expressed his great pleasure at the splendid cooperation given him by the women's Division of the campaign. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard G. Dawson, a well-known organization of women has been built up to accomplish one of the hardest tasks of the campaign. This division will solicit contributions in the residential area from those who are not solicited by the men's division at their offices or plants. Mr. Johnson states that in last year's campaign the women far exceeded the quota assigned to them and from partial reports he confidently expects the same results this year.

For the purpose of conserving time and effort, the borough has been divided into six sections with a section chairman and five captains to each section. Each captain has five workers, and all are giving their respective sections a thorough canvass.

The following captains are lined up under the six sectional chairmen: Mrs. Melvin E. Ahlgren, Mrs. Homer G. Andrews, Mrs. A. F. Dunham, Miss Assunta M. Lucia, Mrs. O. C. Tritt, Mrs. Mary Corah, Mrs. H. H. Crosby, Mrs. Marie C. Dillon, Miss Mary Ellen Juliano, Mrs. Brackett Ayers, Mrs. Lynn A. Branch, Mrs. William Glassman, Mrs. George C. Sarvis, Mrs. Bishop Yates, Mrs. W. A. Greenlee, Mrs. M. L. Hilburn, Mrs. Albert E. Ristau, Mrs. C. H. Rowland, Mrs. Fred Wood, Mrs. Randall Clark, Mrs. Lyle G. Knapp, Mrs. B. V. Lesser, Mrs. Carl Lundahl, Mrs. N. K. Wendelboe, Mrs. Perry Davidson Jr., Mrs. Donald Finley, Mrs. L. M. Schaeffer, Mrs. Donald Smith.

War Widow Writes a Letter Brimfull of Heart Throbs

By HAL BOYLE

With American Troops in Germany, Oct. 11—(Delayed)—(P)—In two years with the troops overseas I have read many stirring letters from wives who lost their husbands in foreign combat but none more moving than one written by Kath Irvin whose husband, Bede Irvin, was killed when an American bomb fell short in the breakthrough near St. Lo last July.

Bede, an Associated Press war photographer, now lies buried in France. He was the envy of every soldier and correspondent who knew him because the mailman never passed him by. He was gone from home a year and three months and every day his wife sent him a gay, gossip letter invariably well-written and cheerful.

Like thousands of other American women whose husbands have died in action, Kath has found it difficult to adjust herself to the finality of death. She expressed this lost feeling in a letter to Danny Grossi, another P photographer, thanking him for telling her the details of Bede's death.

Because I knew Bede and Kath well Danny showed me this letter and I should like to share it with you for the picture it gives of a perfect marriage broken by war. I know Kath will understand my reason and therefore won't mind.

"... Nothing is very real even now," she wrote. "And I find myself putting away little chit-chat in my mind for future letters I will be writing to Bede—and then I remember there can be no more letters to write to him, can be no more mail coming from him, can be no home leave, no home coming at all so far as my Bede is concerned. But it is the impossibility of everything which makes it hard for me to believe that it is true and makes me think that he will some day be returning home like millions of other men: will some day be doing..."

"There is so little comfort in the fact that Bede was a good soldier and died a good soldier's death. . . . Bede held no ideas of ever being heroic. He would say how little he did over there compared to what so many other men were contributing. Yet he had a certain amount of satisfaction in knowing that he was doing whatever he had to do to the best of his ability. I know Bede was happy this past year and three months—as happy as any man can be so far away from his family and home."

"... There are so many things I want to thank you for—the pictures you sent—Bede's campaign ribbon—and the mass you asked your uncle to say for Bede. That was a beautiful thing to do, Danny. . . . I know of no lovelier thing than one man sharing his religion with another. . . .

"I don't know if you are married, Danny, but there are so many hopes and plans between a husband and wife. Plans that won't come true. Nothing we ever dreamed of together can ever come true now. Little sounds of shattering hopes and dreams are big noises now—nothing to hope for—and no understanding."

"... Not seeing Bede around the house isn't an unusual thing for me—it has been a long time since we were together in our own apartment. For you boys in London it is different. You have seen Bede more recently than I. You have eaten with him, talked with him, been around him—and now that he is gone it is hard in another way for all of you, too. . . . I know how heavy your hearts will be. . . . and how carefully dry your eyes will be as you carefully try to avoid mention of Bede's name."

"I, too, have things to face. There will be no more dinners for us together, no more future to dream of and plan on together. But most of all there will be no more Bede. No more Bede to ever meet again. No Bede ever coming home again. I do have memories—memories of Bede and memories of happiness we found together in some eight years of being married. I have memories and pictures and letters. They're good to have—good to lean on—but there is never to be Bede himself again."

"No, Danny, there is nothing more you can do. You've already done so much and there is nothing more I could ask for. The one thing I want cannot be acquired—Bede."

"Maybe someday, if ever we meet again, perhaps you can talk to me about Bede—tell me something I might not know—tell me of Bede the soldier, for the only one I know is the Bede that was with me for all too short a time, the Bede who listened to the sound of taps on his 34th birthday, the Bede who now lies asleep on French soil where he once picked two red poppies and sent them to me in one of his last letters."

Kath kept Bede happy by her letters to the day of his untimely death. Through her letters she was with him—part of his life—every day for the 15 months he was away.

And the moral—if you want one—is: Write that letter to your man in service. Many a soldier will die on German battlefields still sweating out that letter from home that never comes. Many will fare into bloody darkness unhappy because some wife or sweetheart is less faithful and understanding than Kath.

Wallpaper Publication Has Very Interesting New Articles

A copy of the Daily Citizen published in Vicksburg, Miss., on July 2, 1863, and, by its own admission, "valuable as a curiosity" has been discovered by Mrs. H. B. Magee, 14 Prospect street, among some papers which were the property of her father, Benjamin Franklin Ferris, Civil War veteran.

The one-sheet publication is printed on wallpaper, used widely during those days, and is very definitely pro-southern. However, a good share of two of its four columns are devoted to "Yankee News From All Points" as taken from the June 21st issue of the Washington Star.

Two paragraphs are of particular interest in the light of later happenings and we quote:

ON DIT: That the great Ulysses—the Yankee Generalissimo—surnamed Grant—has expressed his intention of dining in Vicksburg on Sunday next, and celebrating the 4th of July by a grand dinner and so forth. When asked if he would invite Gen. Joe Johnston to join he said: "No! For fear there will be a row at the table!"

Ulysses must get into the city before he dines in it. The way to cook rabbit is "first catch the rabbit, etc."

NOTE—July 4, 1863. Two days have brought about great changes: The banner of the Union floats over Vicksburg. General Grant has "caught the rabbit," he has dined in Vicksburg, and he did bring his dinner with him. "The Citizen" lives to see it. For the last time it appears on "Wall Paper". No more will it eulogize the luxury of mule meat and fricassee kitten—urge Southern warriors to such diet nevermore. This is the last wall-paper citizen, and is excepting this note, from the types as we found them. It will be valuable hereafter as a curiosity.

Authorship of the two paragraphs is seen at a glance.

The Bible contains 3,586,439 letters, 773,692 words, 31,173 verses, 1,180 chapters and 66 books, according to calculations of a convict serving a long term in solitary confinement.

Ration Roundup

As of October 18

Processed Foods—Canned or bottled fruits, some juices, tomatoes, catsup and chili sauce. Only blue stamps can now be used in buying processed foods. Blue stamps A8 through Z8, also blue stamps A5 through R5 in War Book 4 are now valid and good indefinitely. Each blue stamp is valued at 10 points. Blue tokens are now invalid. No additional blue stamps will become valid prior to November 1st.

Meats and Fats—Only red stamps and red tokens can be used in buying meats and fats, red tokens being used as change. Red stamps A-8 through Z8, A-5 through K-5 in War Book Four are valid and good indefinitely. The following meats, whether fresh, cured, smoked or cooked, have a point value: Beef roasts and steaks, Grade AA, A and B; lamb roasts, steak and chops, Grades AA, A and B; pork chops, pork loins and hams; Canadian style bacon (cured boneless loin); bacon sides (aged, dry cured with loin); also butter, margarine, cheese, canned fish and canned milk.

Sugar—Stamps 30 through 33 in Book 4 are good for 5 pounds of sugar each and are good indefinitely. Sugar stamp 40 in War Book 4 is good for 5 pounds of sugar for home (ranging only) and will be good through February 28, 1945.

Shoes—Airplane stamps 1 and 2 in War Book Three are each good indefinitely for one pair of shoes.

Fuel Oil—Period one coupons for 1944-45 heating year are now valid for 10 gallons per unit and remain valid until August 31, 1945. Unused 1943-44 period 4 and 5 coupons and definite value coupons attached to the same sheets (indicating the number of gallons) are valid through August 31, 1945. Order your fuel oil and fill your tanks as soon as you receive your coupons. Fuel oil users should budget their ration to take care of their heat and hot water needs.

Gasoline—All A coupons valued at 3 gallons. Coupon 11 became valid Aug. 9 and is good through Nov. 8. New serially numbered E5 and C5 mileage ration coupons are being issued now and are valued at 5 gallons. B-4 and C-4 mileage ration coupons remain valid and are valued at 5 gal. Serially numbered T coupons which bear the designation "4th QTR" are valid, through Dec. 1 and are also valued at 5 gal.; all other T coupons are invalid. For your protection against the black market the rationing rules require that every car owner immediately write his license number and state of registration on all gasoline coupons in his possession.

Tires—Periodic inspection of tires on passenger cars is no longer necessary. However, the tire inspection record must be retained since it is necessary when applying for tire replacements or supplemental gasoline rations. Subject to need and quota restrictions, motorists with "B" and "C" gasoline ration books are eligible for Grade 1 tires. Holders of "A" gasoline books are eligible for Grade 3 tires. In all cases applications must be made to the local board for a certificate.

Whiskey—Through Oct. 21 Book 3 may be presented to obtain the fifth (of a gallon) or pint, allotted for the 8th period. Servicemen may obtain a pint or one fifth for the period or one pint in the first four weeks and another in the latter three weeks, by presenting ration papers, if stationed out of state, or certificate from commanding officer if stationed in Pennsylvania.

Freak Cloud Is Caused By A Jet Plane

The Jamestown Post-Journal offers the following comment regarding the freak cloud mentioned in a brief item in the Times-Mirror Wednesday.

The Post-Journal was besieged with scores of telephone calls today after what is believed to be the first jet-propelled plane to pass over the city left a long vapor trail forming an arc over the horizon of the city.

The plane passed at a height and speed to be unnoticed, although some of those who called in for information said they thought they heard a noise like a plane. Later what first appeared to be a long endless cloud, appeared in the sky and was such an unusual apparition that the curiosity of hundreds was aroused shortly after noon.

Municipal airport officials ventured the opinion that the sky phenomenon was caused by one of the Army's newest planes, which they said, could be neither seen nor heard when travelling at top speed. The thin, white streak, seeming to appear from nowhere, remained intact for nearly an hour.

While many agreed with the theory advanced by airport officials, others who called for information, were sure the spectacle was merely an odd cloud formation and seemed disappointed that it apparently was man-made.

TIDIOUTE

Tidioute, Oct. 17—Mrs. George McKown was pleasantly surprised when 25 relatives gathered at his home to help celebrate his birthday anniversary.

A delicious dinner was served from a table decorated with fall flowers and a lovely birthday cake as center piece. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sherman McKown and family of Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKown and family of Warren, Mrs. George Porter and son Bruce and daughter Miss Dorris of Bradford.

Those from Tidioute who attended the memorial service for Tech. Sgt. Clarence Conklin of Pittsfield, were Mr. and Mrs. Hobson McKown, Mr. and Mrs. George Lynch and Mrs. Dorothy Kernick. 1st Sgt. Garwood Lodge is home on a thirty day furlough with his father and sister, after spending 18 months in Iceland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Biekarek and children of Warren were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grettenberger.

Mrs. Rue Lynch was taken to the Bashline-Rossman Hospital at Grove City, where she underwent an operation. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Alfred Shallenberger and baby daughter Rebecca of Waterford are this week's visitors of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Colwell.

Pvt. George Mathers of Westover Field, Mass., on home for a furlough with his mother Mrs. Fred Jennings and on his return will leave for Greenboro, N. C.

Miss Lucille Tompsett, employed at Warren, spent weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tompsett.

Mr. and Mrs. Klara DeRoche of Parkers Landing were Saturday and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson.

OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

GUNNER PROMOTED

A special dispatch from the 15th AAF headquarters in Italy reports that Paul W. Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fitzgerald, West Main street, Youngsville, was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant. Aged 20 years, he is an armorer-gunner on a B-24 Liberator. Since arriving overseas last August he has participated in bombing attacks on vital harbor installations, rail centers and enemy airdromes in Hungary, Romania, Italy and Yugoslavia.

Sgt. Fitzgerald entered the army in April, 1943, receiving training at Lowry Field, Colo., and gunnery training at Harlingen, Texas.

IN TEXAS

2nd Lt. Dorothy Reynolds, physiotherapist in the Army Medical Corps, is temporarily stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, taking basic training. Lt. Reynolds is a former staff member at Warren State Hospital and for the past year has been studying at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., and McCloskey General Hospital in Temple, Texas. At the completion of four weeks of basic training, she will return to McCloskey General to continue working on the rehabilitation program for wounded soldiers.

CPO. RATING

Mrs. Gilbert W. Brown, of Clarendon, received a telephone call last evening from her husband at Camp Thomas, R. I., saying that he is being transferred to Camp Endicott, R. I., where he received his basic training when entering the SeaBees; also that he had been advanced to the rating of chief petty officer.

FROM OVERSEAS

Allan A. Sampson, electrician's mate second class, has arrived in Warren to spend a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sampson, 11 Monroe street. He has been overseas for the past 16 months, serving in the amphibious forces and taking part in four invasions in the European theater.

HONORABLE DISCHARGE

Edward Bell, son of Mrs. E. M. Bell, 508 West Fifth avenue, is back in Warren after having been honorably discharged from the U. S. Navy. He was in boot training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsey, formerly of Sheffield and now resident in Jamestown, have received word that their son, S/Sgt. Paul A. Lindsey, has arrived safely overseas and is stationed somewhere in India.

Cpl. Orlo K. Rieder, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Rieder, 523 Water street, recently completed an intensive course in radio operator mechanics at the AAF Training Command Radio School at Sioux Falls Army Air Field in South Dakota.

Pvt. Walter Main, with an Air Force unit in Texas, is home on a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Main, 117 Russell street.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Vicini, Clarendon, have received a V-Mail letter from their son Pvt. Donald Vicini that he has arrived safely in New Guinea. It was the first word they had received from him since August 30. He is a cannoneer in the Field Artillery.

Pfc. Franklin Johnson, stationed at Pyote, Texas, is home on furlough with his wife and family at 2 South Irvine street.

Pvt. Jean M. Petersen, of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Petersen, 107 Crescent street, has returned to her base at Camp Lejeune, N. C., after an eight-day furlough at home.

SPAR TRANSFERRED

Margaret Tripp, who recently enlisted in the SPARS, has completed her basic training at Palm Beach, Fla., and has been transferred to Atlantic City, N. J. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tripp, of Garland, and was formerly employed by the Raymond Manufacturing Company in Corry.

WOUNDED IN ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saporito have received a telegram from the War Department informing them that their son, Pfc. Thomas Saporito, was wounded in action in Italy on September 26. Pfc. Saporito had his basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla., and went overseas in February of this year.

According to news received by relatives here, two Warren navy boys from the East Side had a pleasant reunion in the Pacific. They are Paul Conway and James Masterson, both members of crews of different destroyers and who have not seen each other since the start of the war. Recently the ships were in the same territory, and the boys were permitted an afternoon to visit on one of the destroyers.

Promotion of Kenneth Allen Frazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy, 1212 Pennsylvania avenue, west, to the rank of corporal in the AAF is announced by the Air Service Command training center at Fresno, Calif. Cpl. Frazier entered the army July 25, 1942, and received his first stripe in October 7 of that year.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Falconer, Sugar Grove RD 1, have received word that their son Pfc. Richard S. Falconer, has been admitted to the Ashford General Hospital, West Virginia, Ward 201. Friends may write him at that address.

Reid L. Pierson, petty officer in the Merchant Marine, is on leave to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pierson, Youngsville.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

Chaplain Rogers Writes Of Thrilling Episodes At Front

Many parishioners and other friends of Chaplain Edward K. Rogers, of First Lutheran church, will read with interest the following communication written somewhere in France:

Landed in Normandy with my division on the morning of D-Day back in June. Since then it has been almost continual fighting in the lines and I have been in the lines with my infantry battalion all the time with the exception of ten days in the hospital with an attack of malaria (old stuff from the African and Sicilian campaigns) and about ten days rest which the outfit had.

The nature of the campaign often made the having of services very difficult, due at times to mortar and artillery fire and at other times due to rapid and constant movements of the last few months. Services are well attended when held and more than a dozen men have asked for baptism in France.

It seems that I have a habit of getting into "jams". In June my driver was killed and my jeep wrecked when we received heavy mortar fire while bringing back dead and wounded from "no man's land". Two other men assigned to help me were killed and two more were wounded by shell fire at other times.

My face was cut a bit by a German "booby trap" one day as I searched for dead. On another occasion I spent a very uncertain night digging civilians out of debris and hunting wounded soldiers in the line after a heavy and unpleasant bombing.

One of the most interesting experiences was the capture of a German company commander who turned out to be a Lutheran pastor. His company had just been wiped out and I was out in uncertain territory looking for some dead and wounded Germans which had been reported. When I found one dead man, I sent my soldier escort on ahead to locate two wounded Jerries who would have to spend the night without attention if we did not find them. I followed a little later and was surprised to stumble on a body lying in a vegetable patch. As I stooped to examine the body, the officer rolled over in a hurry as though to get his pistol. He was not hurt but hiding out until dark to escape. I was able to discourage any ideas he had and he surrendered and I disarmed him. After locating the wounded Germans, my escort and I took the officer back to the lines and headquarters. It was then that I discovered he was a Lutheran pastor and we were able to make his lot as a prisoner much better. The Reich drafts pastors for line duty and this pastor had fought in France in 1940 and two campaigns in Russia, where he had been wounded. We had medicos sent out to bring back the two Germans that night.

On another occasion while searching for dead and wounded my escort and I were suddenly confronted by two Germans who covered us with pistols at fifteen feet. They had been out off and were trying to get back to their unit. Well, I, of course, had no gun. Just then one excited German shot the soldier who was with me. That was a signal for action! Two German pistols and an American rifle were blazing away at ten feet. Two pistols against one rifle at ten feet have an advantage.

On impulse I dove on the German covering me he swerved his pistol a little. Down we went and he lost his gun. I put all the football and wrestling I had learned in college to work in the next minute and rolled my Jerry into a ditch and tied him up tightly and looked to see how the duel was edging out between the other two. No one was to be seen after the exchange of a dozen shots. My Jerry was screaming bloody murder in fright. Then I called my soldier to see if he was still doing business before I decided just what would have to be done with my Nazi, who didn't want to surrender like a decent gentleman. My lad answered the call and came out of the ditch on the other side of the road. His German was out of commission, while he was hit twice, in the chest and foot. The first shot had hit him squarely in the chest, but fortunately had hit his ammunition bandolier, which caused it to flatten and only slightly penetrate his chest. Luckily he could walk so I had him bring his rifle over so I could shove my squirming prisoner's face into the muzzle and thus get him to go along with us. It was getting dusk so we made our way back to the lines without loss of time and my escort went to the hospital, where he finally recovered in quick order.

At present I am able to have a (Turn to Page Fourteen)

HOME FROM AFRICA

Leon Van Ord, gunner's mate third class in the U. S. Navy, is spending a 25-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Van Ord, at Russell. Leon arrived at a U. S. port October 10 from a naval station in North Africa, the ship, containing many navy boys, receiving a big ovation as it came into port. While overseas, Gunner Van Ord took part in both the northern and southern invasions of France, spent some time in England and in different parts of Italy. He reports the 21-day trip from Africa was uneventful, with the exception of several days of very rough weather.

IS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. May Wallace, of Morrison, has received word that her son, Pvt. Carl E. Wallace, is very sick in a hospital in France. As soon as he is able, he will be transferred to another hospital, likely in England.

Lt. and Mrs. James Torrance and small son, Jimmy, Jr., are here on leave from Camp Croft, S. C., to visit Mrs. Torrance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cobb, 409 Rankin street.

HAVE DECORATION

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Branch, 8 East Third avenue, have received the Purple Heart which was awarded some time ago to their son, Lt. Edward, Jr., for wounds received in action in the Pacific theatre of operations.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service will be held at 3 p. m. on Sunday in the Cochran Methodist church for Lt. Elvin J. Galmish, husband of the former Rosadell Chitester. Lt. Galmish, a pilot with the Ninth Air Force in France died of injuries on September 5. Four other members of the crew of six have been reported dead of injuries and the sixth seriously wounded.

HOME FROM OVERSEAS

T/Sgt. Chester Munksgard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Munksgard, 113 Crescent street, is home on a thirty day furlough following many months overseas duty some place in the South Pacific.

WE won't let them down now!

... we're giving plenty!

WHEN it comes to giving... we never think of ourselves as "labor" or "management"... Republican or Democrat. We're Americans all!

That's why the great labor unions are lined up with chambers of commerce and manufacturers' associations in support of the annual War Fund drive of their community. That's why G.I.O., A.F.L. and the Railroad Brotherhoods—all unions—are urging their members to give generously.

These WAR SERVICE AGENCIES are supported entirely by your gifts to your local War Fund: u.s.o.—with lounges and canteens, with camp shows both here and overseas, War Prisoners' Aid—delivering games, books, athletic equipment to boys in enemy prison camps. United Seamen's Service—a helping hand for men doing lonely, dangerous war jobs.

LOCAL COMMUNITY WELFARE AGENCIES also have been banded together in this one great cause. Local services supported by this one big drive include family and child welfare work, maternity care for wives of service men, day care for children of war workers, public health activities, projects designed to combat juvenile delinquency.

These are our boys and girls in the service, our friends and neighbors at home. There are more who need our help this year than ever before. We won't let them down now! We're giving generously.

Past Scores Indicate a Hard Assignment for Local Team

Come Friday, the Warren High Dragons tangl' with Bob Pflug's Bradford Owls for the local's ninth tussle of the year. With five wins, two losses and - tie already accredited to the record, the Leidgimen are attempting to make their future games spotless in the books. With the loss of Chuck Adams and Jack Cooney, both right ends, Coach Leidg may replace these with Joe Allen. Allen started the season at right halfback and substituted in the end position during last week's clash.

The Owls, who have two wins and just as many losses, will be out to trip the locals after the Dragons' 1944 19-0 win over the Red and Black. Playing with eight returning veterans, the Owls should have a slight advantage over the Warren crew who are stiffened by only four vets. The local high school eleven has played eight games so far this year and have plenty of experience which will be an important factor in Friday night's encounter. Held up by the polio scare, the boys from the oil town were unable to get off to an early start in the '44 season.

The two grid eleven are equally matched as shown in the scores of sixteen games played since 1920. The local crew has copped seven of the encounters, Bradford taking seven. There have been two ties. Judging from these scores,

Last Night's Bouts

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19.—Commander Gene Tunney, USNR, who said he once believed that preparation for war should be concentrated on military training, has changed his mind.

He told Connecticut sports writers and members of the New Haven Gridiron Club last night that "we are better equipped than any other nation in the world to carry on a long war" because of sports.

And he indicated that a talk he had with General Douglas MacArthur in New Guinea last December had "done much" to change his mind.

Tunney quoted MacArthur as saying that football and boxing were the best sports for the development of the fighting man.

Steeler - Card Combine Will Play Without John Butler

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Steeler-Chicago Cardinals National Football League team resumed preparation today for its game with the New York Giants Sunday minus the services of Halfback Johnny Butler.

The former Tennessee grid great was under indefinite suspension for failing to report for practice after he and two other players had each been fined $200 for what the management called "indifferent play" in last Sunday's 34-7 loss to the Bears at Chicago.

Co-Coaches Walt Kiesling and Phil Handler assigned End Eddie Rucinski to the spot vacated by Butler.

The other players fined with

Butler, Fullback Johnny Grigas and Tackle Eberle Schultz, were back in uniform after straightening out their troubles with the Steeler management. All three had failed to report for the week's first practice on Tuesday.

The fines were announced after the club returned from Chicago. John Holahan, business manager, said a meeting of the players was held after the fines were assessed but added that "all grievances were worked out and things are now working out to the best interests of the club."

Butler and Schultz are the property of the Pittsburgh end of the Card-Pitt combine while Grigas belongs to the Chicago half.

HORNETS EVEN COUNT WITH THE BARONS

Pittsburgh's 1943-44 cellar club in the American Hockey League's Western Division won only one of its first 12 games but the current edition today boasted a .500 record with a triumph on the second start of the campaign.

Tony Hemminger became the first ice ace to complete the hat trick by scoring three times as the Hornets evened the count with Cleveland, last night, 5-2, before 3,500 opening night fans in Pittsburgh.

The Barons rolled up a 6-1 decision the night before on home ice, but a four-goal final period by Coach Max Kaminsky's Hornets made up for that.

Tony Hemminger put Cleveland out in front again last night as it was 2-0 before Hemminger scored his first goal mid-way in the second period.

SPORT SHORTS

State College, Oct. 19.—(P)—Johnny Chuckran, captain of last year's Lansford high football team and now a freshman at Pennsylvania State College, has been named captain of the Nittany Lions for their game with Colgate this Saturday at Hamilton, N. Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—(P)—Bill Daley, former University of Minnesota star, has signed with the New York team of the recently organized All-America conference to play professional football after the war, according to Bert Bell, co-owner of the Pittsburgh-Chicago Cards-Pitts in the National Football League. Daley was chosen by Pittsburgh in the 1942 National draft of College players, after being drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers entered the Armed Forces.

WOODS FIRE

The department was called to the vicinity of Fifth avenue and Beech street about 1:20 this afternoon when a woods fire broke out and threatened to spread to adjoining property.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

A local lad caught by an officer in the act of ransacking an automobile in the vicinity of Hickory street and Fourth avenue last evening is being detained in the juvenile department of the county jail. It is expected that others are involved in depredations in that section reported to the police recently and efforts are to be made to apprehend them.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION

A picture-story of more than 20, large posters prepared by Life, Inc., under the caption "We Are United Nations," is attracting much attention and study at the Fredrickson Master Market on Pennsylvania avenue, east. The picture exhibits spotlights countries, people and ideals of all the United Nations, each poster containing the flag of that particular nation, and extends across the entire display windows.

Heavy Casualties In Robot Attack

London, Oct. 19—(P)—Heavy Casualties were reported today in a small town in southern England which suffered one of its worst blows of the war as the Germans continued their flying bomb attacks for the eighth successive night.

An entire row of houses in the community was destroyed by a robot which plowed into the earth after being hit by anti-aircraft fire. Rescue workers still were digging in the ruins this morning for dead and injured, but the total number of casualties remained uncertain.

Flying bombs also fell in other scattered areas.

Speculation developed whether the Nazis were experimenting with some new type explosive as the cries-cross flashes were different from those to which Britons have become accustomed.

Japanese Communiqué Says U. S. Has Landee Forces on Island of Suluan have cost the Japanese close to 1,000 planes and hundreds of ships are still continuing. Manila radio reported. It told of 270 carrier planes striking in four waves this morning at Manila and strategic Clark Field. The Japanese-controlled radio claimed 19 were shot down.

The Mikado's war lords said "our navy and army units" are "intercepting this enemy force" an ambiguous expression which Tokyo uses to describe any kind of defense or none at all.

The unconfirmed Tokyo announcements indicated that a powerful task group of Adm. William F. Halsey's Third Fleet combined with the southwest Pacific naval forces boldly steamed into Leyte Gulf in the central Philippines to screen an amphibious landing on Luzon island and perhaps some of the other islands bordering the gulf.

The area, only 400 miles from Manila, is an ideal spot from which to establish aerial control of the islands, and completely nullify air bases that carrier planes haven't already knocked out.

Almost simultaneously the controlled Manila radio reported 270 carrier-borne planes attacked Manila and Clark airfield in four waves today in a continuation of week-long punishment from the air.

There was no immediate Allied confirmation. Pacific fleet headquarters said merely that showing no sign of a letup, the American Third Fleet kept pouring down on the Philippines today the carrier-borne navy which already has knocked out more than 900 Japanese planes, close to 200 ships and more than 150 small surface craft since Oct. 9 in the far western Pacific.

After crumpling the Ryukyus-Formosa line of reinforcement last week, Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr., has concentrated his firepower on the invasion-menaced Philippines, breaking radio silence only briefly to pass through fragmentary accounts of the momentous operations.

On the basis of admittedly preliminary reports, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that seven enemy ships and 19 planes—including the lone plane encountered in the sky—were bagged yesterday in attacks on Luzon. Then he added: "Action is continuing and further details will be released as they become available."

Daily since Sunday, Nimitz has referred to "continuing" raids on the Philippines while confining the reports to terse preliminary ones.

Winning War and Keeping Peace Are Main Issues

declared that Dewey "has abandoned the role of candidate for president and has become the ruthless, unscrupulous prosecutor attempting to convict Franklin D. Roosevelt as a Communist, a liar and a common crook."

In Washington, the senate campaign expenditures committee decided against a formal investigation of the Stater hotel fight between two navy officers and AFL teamsters the night President Roosevelt spoke to the unionists. The committee turned to an investigation of the anti-fourth term publication of Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.), "the W. Lee O'Daniel News."

Five Deaths In Erie Baffling To Officials

"What happened from the time the mother and her four sons were heard x x x in the apartment from 2 p. m. (Tuesday) until they were found dead will remain a mystery unless the stomach contents reveal poisoning."

Mrs. Bertha M. Wolfe, 22, was unconscious when a relative discovered her and the bodies of her sons in the bedroom of her home late Tuesday afternoon. She died early yesterday.

Her husband, Howard Wolfe, a truck driver, told police his family was served a meal of sauerkraut and spaghetti Monday but that the children, who complained of illness, seemed well, Tuesday morning.

campaign to defeat Hitler this year. But to do so they must take Warsaw.

The convergence of transportation lines, according to competent military opinion here, is such that they can not afford to leave the battered city in German hands. The first capital taken by Hitler in his drive to conquer Europe remains in his last months one of the keys to his defeat.

Chaplain Rogers Writes Of Thrilling Episodes At Front

service or two, small ones as a rule, each day. On Sundays we have about four. Of course many men can't come to them for they are on outposts and in front lines from which they can't depart. The other day I crept up to a position to recover the body of a dead soldier. I said that I crept, and that is just what one had to do at times among those trees, for less than four hundred yards away in a clearing was a German pillbox which was still doing business for the enemy. Under such conditions, many men can't meet together for services.

I believe that I conducted the first American service in a captured fort of the Siegfried Line in Germany. Sorry I can't tell the date but that doesn't matter. Shell and mortar fire of the enemy made the holding of services outside impossible but then I found a company headquarters in a captured fort which had a large room underground. That became the church and there we set up our little altar case and used the order of evening prayer in our little service hymnals.

Outside the air cracked with shell and mortar bursts. Inside slight concussion could be felt. There was the invocation and then the chaplain said "Lord, have mercy upon us." The voices of a couple dozen soldiers spoke with determined faith as they repeated "Lord, have mercy upon us." We had other services there in that damp, wet fort. I told our Catholic chaplain and he also held a service there. My last service there was held this past Sunday, when

New Teacher Is Employed By Directors

Superintendent of Schools John G. Rossman has announced that Mrs. Phyllis Stanley has been secured to replace Miss Anna Kahl, who passed away September 12, 1944.

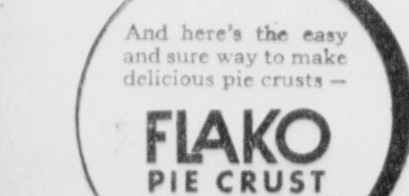

Mrs. Stanley, whose husband is serving with the Armed Forces, graduated from Lock Haven State Teachers College and has had post-graduate work at Columbia University. She will teach English and speech in the high school.

Mrs. O. A. Pressel, who has been substituting in the English department, will teach Spanish during the absence of Miss Kinley.

At a special meeting of the school board yesterday, the resignation of Miss Katherine Hutchinson, on sabbatical leave from Home street school, was accepted.

Memorial Is Tribute For Sgt. Conklin

Youngville, Oct. 19—An impressive memorial service was held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Pittsfield Wesleyan Methodist church honoring Sgt. Clarence Bernard Conklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Conklin. Sgt. Conklin paid the supreme price in the liberation of France Sept. 14, when he was killed in action.

Many friends and relatives gathered in the church to do honor to the memory of this young soldier. The altar of the church was banked with flowers in his memory, and a guard of honor from Corry Veterans of Foreign Wars was present from Company A.

A short tribute was given by Rev. H. Ray Harris, of Corry United Brethren church, prayer was offered and scripture reading given local pastor. A short life history showed Sgt. Conklin was born Nov. 24, 1918 and was killed Sept. 14, 1944. Appreciation was expressed for the beautiful flowers which banked the altar. A solo "Someday We'll Understand", was sung by Mr. Lyons, of Corry, with accompaniment played by Miss Treva McKinney, of Youngville. A sermon was delivered by Rev. H. Ray Harris.

A gold star was placed on the church honor roll by Roy Mission, captain who enlisted Sgt. Conklin in Co. I and Captain Arthur Lynch, former platoon leader, of Sgt. Conklin, also took part in this service.

A poem written by a soldier, "Jesus and I", was read by Mr. Harris at the close of the memorial service. After the service After the service members of V. F. W. marched to the Pittsfield Honor Roll plot and there placed a beautiful floral tribute.

Friends and relatives were present from Warren, Cole Hill, Torpedo, Corry, Irvine, Meadville, Grand Valley, Davy Hill, Tidouline, Youngville and Pittsfield. Sgt. Conklin is survived by his wife in Corry; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Conklin, of Pittsfield; a sister, Doris Conklin, of Pittsfield; and a brother, Floyd Conklin, of Youngville.

Alfred B. Noble, Swedish dynamite inventor, left $9,200,000 to provide annual awards of from $20,000 to $60,000 to persons who, in chemistry, physics, physiology, medicine, literature and peace, had made the greatest contributions toward world progress and humanity's welfare.
